(NASDAQ: MYL) is available on the Investor Relations section of the Company's website and will be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Erez Vigodman, President and CEO of Teva, commented, "Our strong financial and operating performance demonstrates that great people, great products and world-class execution of our strategy are coming together in a powerful way at Teva. Teva has built the foundation for accelerated growth and an even stronger future and we will continue to evolve to deliver on our strategy and achieve our goals. The proposed combination makes compelling strategic, financial and cultural sense.

The combined company will have a strong and flexible financial profile, including substantial debt capacity and an investment grade rating.

The strength of Teva's business, pipeline, leadership and long-term growth prospects.

The significant achievements and robust financial performance Teva has generated through its transformation.

As previously announced on April 21, 2015, Teva has proposed to acquire Mylan for $82.00 per share, with the consideration to be comprised of approximately 50 percent cash and 50 percent stock. Teva's proposal for Mylan implies a total equity value of approximately $43 billion. Teva's proposal represents a 48.3% premium to the unaffected stock price of Mylan on March 10, 2015, the last day of trading prior to widespread speculation of a transaction between Teva and Mylan. Teva's proposal is contingent on Mylan not completing its proposed acquisition of Perrigo or any alternative transactions.

Barclays and Greenhill & Co. are serving as financial advisors to Teva. Kirkland & Ellis LLP and Tulchinsky Stern Marciano Cohen Levitski & Co are serving as legal counsel to Teva, with De Brauw Blackstone Westbroek N.V. and Loyens & Loeff N.V. acting as legal advisors in the Netherlands.
