Contingent Buffered Notes Based on the S&P 500® Index Due August---, 2018

Overview. The securities are unsecured senior debt securities issued by Citigroup Inc. Unlike conventional debt securities, the securities do not pay interest and do not repay a fixed amount of principal at maturity. Instead, the securities offer a payment at maturity that may be greater than, equal to or less than the stated principal amount, depending on the performance of the S&P 500® Index (the “underlying index”) from the initial index level to the final index level.

The securities offer exposure to the potential appreciation of the underlying index and a contingent buffer against a limited range of potential depreciation of the underlying index. In exchange for the contingent buffer, investors in the securities must be willing to forgo any dividends that may be paid on the stocks that constitute the underlying index. In addition, investors in the securities must be willing to accept full downside exposure to the underlying index, with no buffer, if the underlying index depreciates by more than 32.05%.

All payments on the securities are subject to the credit risk of Citigroup Inc. The securities will not be listed on any securities exchange and may have limited or no liquidity.

Selected Risk Considerations

- You may lose some or all of your investment. If the final index level is less than the barrier level, the contingent buffer against a limited range of potential depreciation of the underlying index offered by the securities will not apply and you will lose 1% of the stated principal amount of the securities for every 1% by which the final index level is less than the initial index level. The securities offer no protection at all if the underlying index depreciates by more than 32.05%.
- The securities do not pay interest.
- Investing in the securities is not equivalent to investing in the underlying index or the stocks that constitute the underlying index. You will not have voting rights, rights to receive dividends or any other rights with respect to the stocks that constitute the underlying index.
- The securities are subject to the credit risk of Citigroup Inc. If Citigroup Inc. defaults on its obligations under the securities, you may not receive anything owed to you under the securities.
- The securities will not be listed on any securities exchange and you may not be able to sell them prior to maturity.
- The estimated value of the securities on the pricing date will be less than the issue price. For more information about the estimated value of the securities, see the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement.
- The value of the securities prior to maturity is likely to be less than the issue price and will fluctuate based on many unpredictable factors.
- Citigroup Inc. and its affiliates, and the placement agents and their affiliates, may have conflicts of interest with you.
- The U.S. federal tax consequences of an investment in the securities are unclear.

The above summary of selected risks does not describe all of the risks associated with an investment in the securities. You should read the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement and product supplement for a more complete description of risks relating to the securities.
